Although the Funds will offer quarterly liquidity through a quarterly repurchase process, an investor may not be able to sell or otherwise liquidate all their shares tendered during a quarterly repurchase offer.
- The Funds' investments in private equity companies (Primark) and private infrastructure companies (Meketa) are speculative and involve a high degree of risk, including the additional risk associated with leverage.

Risks for investing in infrastructure companies:

- Infrastructure investments are often subject to regulatory changes and political decisions. Changes in government policies, tariffs, or regulations can significantly impact profitability.
- Infrastructure projects require substantial capital investment and have long payback periods. This can tie up significant amounts of capital for extended periods, posing liquidity risks.
- The complexity of infrastructure projects can lead to operational challenges, including construction delays, cost overruns, and maintenance issues. Effective project management is crucial to mitigate risks.
- Economic downturns can affect infrastructure usage and revenue. For example, reduced travel during economic recessions can impact toll roads and airports.
